On-Campus Living at Garrett College

Garrett College offers students two distinctive styles of residential living: traditional suite-style housing and two-and four-bedroom apartment-style housing designed to meet the diverse needs of domestic and international students.

As a complement to the small size and affordable cost of Garrett College's programs, our residence halls and meal plans allow for flexible, cost-effective housing options. The residence halls at Garrett College are intended to be a place for students to live, and thrive, while working toward achieving their academic goals.

While residing in the residence halls, students have numerous opportunities to become involved in student life and activities, develop lifelong friendships, and make the most of their college experience.

While living on campus provides a great experience for students, it is important to note students must understand there are academic, behavioral, and financial expectations, set forth by Garrett College.

Why Live on Campus?

The residence life staff are present and reside in the halls in an effort to ensure safety, security and community among residents.

Staff are on-call 24 hours a day, seven days a week. It has been our experience that living on campus provides many successful advantages.
